Must be some of those killer crickets I keep hearing about.

Is it raining? 'Cause, you know, you better come in my kitchen, because it's bound to be raining outside.

Ah, the classics. Sometimes you just can't beat 'em. g

I could say it, but it wouldn't be the same, would it? No.

Poor Elmer. Left home all alone while his new human goes out cavorting with someone else's wild yeasts.

It was a silence so dignified you couldn't even hear me giving you back.

Also, ew doesn't begin to cover it.

Also, because I forgive you and suffer all your cruelty with a martyrlike dignity, pecan ring from the good bakery in the kitchenette, and where's the coffee?

Yay! He's baaaaaaaaaaaaaack.

...and he beat me to the office. Damn! How am I supposed to check for guilty looks?

That is your problem.

Just don't get between me and the coffee, and nobody has to lose a limb.

I am gonna take a picture of your breakfast for her, though. Even by my standards, that's a lot of food.

Too nervous to eat much pie last night, honey? Don't worry. You can make it up to her next time.

Also, there's rugelach.

Hey, he's getting pretty good at this.

No fair learning from our example!
